

Mining

Our seals are the hardest mineworkers.

Mining presents demanding conditions for hydraulic seals, and Hercules has met those demands for decades with superior sealing products, customer service and technical assistance. Mining is a complex industry, with an array of extreme heavy-duty needs. Hercules' vast product offering exclusively for mining includes seals, seal kits and gaskets for the primary mining environments such as open pit, longwall and underground mining.

Our products are field tested to assure maximum continuous performance as they withstand severe heat, pressure, speeds, friction and more in numerous mining machines and environments. Your needs are unique, so count on Hercules' expertise for the best custom solutions and products.
